New! Listserv Contact List.

A few months ago, we asked you to contribute information about yourself and your program/organization to a contact list for this listserv. We have compiled the responses and would like to share them with you. If you would like to be added to this the contact list, or if you have additional information to provide, please email PracticeFacilitation@mathematica-mpr.com.

New! Practice Facilitation Program Directory. See link below.

The past two weeks, we've heard perspectives from PF expert Lyndee Knox, who is the CEO of LA NET, a practice-based research network with a facilitation program. LA NET recently pulled together a Practice Facilitation program directory that contains information on programs in many states and would like to share the directory with this listserv.
